

Module 8

In this module I made every module that had multiple parts in to separate folders by the same name. So for module 4 I made a “Module4” folder and moved all of the files in to it. I did this for the other modules as well and then committed/synced it to my github. I then had to go in and change the links in my index file to include what folder they were in so that the links would still work. Now my work is much more organized and I will continue to do this for the rest of the modules.
